The Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) provides a common basis for describing the skills needed to reach different levels of language proficiency. It presents a reference system that is designed to establish correlations between various tests and ability levels. ETS regularly carries out score mapping studies between its tests and the CEFR to ensure that reliable and precise correlations can be made over time. The TOEIC® Listening and Reading test measures proficiency in English reading and listening skills, from beginner to advanced level - CEFR levels from A1 to C1. CEFR level TOEIC® Listening&Reading score General CEFR level description Can understand a wide range of demanding, longer texts, and recognise implicit meaning. Can introduce him/herself and others and can ask and answer questions about personal details such as where he/she lives, people he/she knows and things he/she has. Can interact in a simple way provided the other person talks slowly and clearly and is prepared to help. Index TOEIC® Listening & Reading Test The TOEIC L&R uses an optically-scanned answer sheet. There are 200 questions to answer in two hours in Listening (approximately 45 minutes, 100 questions) and Reading (75 minutes, 100 questions). The same question format is used each time. Mark your answers on your answer sheet and not in the test book. The test is only in English. There are no questions involving translating from Japanese to English, or from English to Japanese. Listening Section (approx. 45 minutes, 100 questions) Listen to conversation and narrations, and answer the questions. Part1 Photographs: 6 questions Four short statements regarding a photograph will be spoken only one time. The statements will not be printed. Of these four statements, select the one that best describes the photograph and mark your answer on the answer sheet. Part2 Question-Response: 25 questions Three responses to one question or statement will be spoken only one time. They will not be printed. Select the best response for the question, and mark your answer on the answer sheet. Part3 Conversations: 39 questions Conversations between two or three people will be spoken only one time. They will not be printed. Listen to each conversation and read the questions printed in the test book (the questions will also be spoken), select the best response for the question, and mark your answer on the answer sheet. Some questions may require responses related to information found in diagrams, etc. printed on the test book as well as what you heard in the conversations. There are three questions for each conversation. Part4 Talks: 30 questions Short talks such as announcements or narrations will be spoken only one time. They will not be printed. Listen to each talk and read the questions printed in the test book (the questions will also be spoken), select the best response for the question, and mark your answer on the answer sheet. Some questions may require responses related to information found in diagrams, etc. printed on the test book as well as what you heard in the talks. There are three questions for each talk. Reading Section (75 minutes, 100 questions) Read printed questions and answer them. Part5 Incomplete Sentences: 30 questions Select the best answer of the four choices to complete the sentence, and mark your answer on the answer sheet. Part6 Text Completion: 16 questions Select the best answer of the four choices (words, phrases, or a sentence) to complete the text, and mark your answer on the answer sheet. There are four questions for each text. Part7 Single Passages: 29 questions Multiple Passages: 25 questions A range of different texts will be printed in the test book. Read the questions, select the best answer of the four choices, and mark your answer on the answer sheet. Some questions may require you to select the best place to insert a sentence within a text. There are multiple questions for each text. Here are some sample test for the TOEIC L&R (in Japanese page).
